

REPRINT PERMISSION POLICY

The editorial content of The Principal News and other AWSP publications is covered by copyright by the Association of Washington School Principals unless copyright is requested by contributing authors or organizations.

Requests to reprint or reproduce, in print or online, material published in The Principal News or other AWSP publications must be in written form, specifying the article(s), publication date(s), usage, and number of copies to be reproduced. Each request will be reviewed on its merits and confirmed by e-mail for one-time use only.

Requests for articles copyrighted by authors or organizations are subject to written approval by the copyright holders.

There is no charge for reprint permission where the material is requested for nonprofit educational use, as in staff development packets, school newsletters, or school Web sites.

Reprinted material should carry the following credit: Reprinted with permission. Copyright [year] Association of Washington School Principals. All rights reserved.
